Description

Abstract	The Geological Survey of Western Australia (GSWA) has developed a SQLite data package for the Hackathon series, providing a consolidated source of HyLogger-related drillhole and borehole information from key Western Australian geoscience repositories. The package integrates data linked to the AuScope NVCL WA Catalog, WAMEX, and WAPIMS, enabling participants to explore and analyse associated geological datasets. Designed to support the hackathon's data crunch, data adoption, and data visualisation challenges, the package aims to facilitate innovative solutions and unlock greater value from Western Australia's geoscience information. These data are held in GDA2020 decimal degrees.
